

Course # 101 (UAQTP)

Uniform Air Quality Training Program

The Uniform Air Quality Training Program (UAQTP) is a series of 14 sections providing an introduction to air pollution control and enforcement. The program is intended for new, entry-level stationary source inspectors, regulatory agency staff, and environmental specialists in business and government. You will learn the basics of air pollution history, the evolution of air pollution laws and regulations, control equipment, and inspection procedures associated with proper compliance inspections.
